We are authorized to announce Hon. H. T. Key of Monroville as a candidate for re-election for representative in the General Assembly from Smith county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The Courier is authorized to announce I. D. BEASLEY as a candidate for representative in the next General Assembly from Smith county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The Courier is authorized to announce W. C. Wilson as a candidate for representative in the next General Assembly from Smith county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Colonel Roosevelt is a lucky man. Just as he gets "cut of politics" he is offered a splendid opportunity to get into the Mexican war.

One of the good measures passed by the last legislature was a bill requiring the payment of poll tax thirty days before the date of election before a voter would be qualified to vote. Therefore, according to this statute, your poll tax must be paid not later than July 3rd to qualify you to vote in the regular election, which is to be held the first Thursday in August. Don't lose your vote on account of the delinquent dating on your poll tax receipt.

HON. CORDELL HULL

While Tennessee Republicans are disputing over the member for this state of the national committee of their party, the Democrats are united and happy in the retention of Hon. Cordell Hull in that place.

There were at one time indications of machine maneuvering on the part of the discomfited to depose Mr. Hull from this place, but the scheme was unavailing. When the test came there was no question about retaining him.

No man is better suited for the position. Mr. Hull is a man of good intelligence and high character. He has made an excellent record in Congress, and has probably—because, chiefly, that he was the author of the income tax law—more of a national reputation than any other member of the Tennessee delegation in the House of Representatives.

He is young enough and active enough to make a live committeeman, and has a sufficient fund of that discretion we call common sense to make a wise one.—Nashville Banner.

Thresh Wheat While it is Dry.

Manager of the Gordonsville Mill F. A. Smith has written a letter bearing on the proper care of wheat and is mailing it to wheat-growers of the county. Mr. Smith is one of Gordonsville's most progressive and successful business men and under his management the Gordonsville Mill has established the reputation of courteous and appreciative attention to its customers, producing first class flour; and what is more, the mill has been of great service to the public in general. Mr. Smith thoroughly understands the milling business and knows that it takes good wheat to make good flour. Therefore, the primary purpose of his letter is urging the grower to take the proper care of his wheat, especially emphasizing the importance of threshing wheat while it is dry. Wheat threshed wet will never bring top prices and will never make the best flour. Thresh your wheat dry and the Gordonsville Mill will pay you top market prices, they can make more and better flour per bushel, give you more in exchange for wheat, and sell flour from 40 to 60 cents per barrel cheaper. Therefore not only in justice to his business does Mr. Smith make this appeal, but for the benefit of the grower as well, and if the grower will be guided by what he says, the entire public will profit.

WILSON AND MARSHALL RE-NOMINATED

The great national Democratic convention which met in St. Louis last week re-nominated President Wilson and Vice President Marshall by acclamation. The convention, which was composed of democrats from every state in the union, was noted for its unity in action. Every word spoken was in praise of the work done by the administration and very act committed was in accord with the views of the President.

The keynote speech of the convention was delivered by Ex-Gov. Glynn of New York, who, among other things, had the following to say of President Wilson:

The man who is President of the United States today has measured up to the best traditions of a great office.

He has been wise with a wisdom that is steeped in the traditions of his country, with a wisdom that has been disciplined by training and broadened by instruction.

He has been prudent with the prudence of one who has within his hands the destiny of a hundred million people.

He has been firm with the firmness that proceeds from deep conviction, with the firmness that is grounded in a duty well defined.

He has been courageous with the courage that places country above self, with the courage that follows duty wherever it may lead.

He has been dignified with the dignity that is self forgetting and self-respecting, with the dignity that conserves the majesty of the greatest office in the world.

He has been patriotic with a patriotism that has never wavered, a patriotism that is as pure and strong as the faith that moved the fathers when they made our country free.

No President since the Civil War has had as crucial problems to solve; and no President has displayed a grasp more sure, a statesmanship more profound.

And when the history of these days comes to be written, and the children of tomorrow read their nation's story, when time shall have dispelled all misconception, and the years shall have rendered their impartial verdict, one name will shine in golden splendor on the page that is blackened with the tale of Europe's war; one name will represent the triumph of American principles over the hosts of darkness and of death.

That name will be the name of the great President who has made Democracy proud that he is a Democrat, and made Americans proud that he is an American.

The jury in the impeachment proceedings which have been in progress in Nashville during the past several days, last week found Jesse Edgington, judge of the criminal court at Memphis, guilty of a number of the charges preferred against him, and he is debarred from ever holding any office in the state within the gift of the people. Among other high crimes Judge Edgington was charged and convicted of accepting a bribe, violating injunction orders of his own court, and permitting his own court to be a refuge for law violating in general. The conviction of Judge Edgington is a victory for justice and right.

Let all those who have been hollering for war get ready to go to the Mexican border.

Children in a family should be treated as a gardener cares for his flowers. He realizes that they require different lights, soils, moisture, shade and attention. The treatment that would make a rose win a gold medal at a horticultural show, might kill an orchid. He studies the plant, their habits, needs, peculiarities and individuality. He seeks to discover how each grows naturally. He does not force his process on nature; but seeks humbly to follow her guidance and revelation. He realizes that Nature not only deals with but leads. Parents do not always learn this lesson; they do not realize that in showing us how children grow most naturally Nature is revealing to us the best method of training them.

Woodward Says He Is Just Brimful Of New Life And Energy Since Taking Tanlac.

"I feel just like getting out there in the street now and out running any man in this town," was the characteristic statement made by J. B. Woodward, a well-known citizen of Lexington, Ky., in telling his friends of the remarkable benefits he had derived from Tanlac.

"Yes, sir, it's a fact," he continued, "I have only used Tanlac for about two weeks now and I am like a new man. I feel just brimful of new life and energy, and my family and all of my friends can see the difference in my condition."

"Before I began taking Tanlac I could not raise my left hand to my head and it had been that way for fully two years. I suffered from stomach trouble, rheumatism and neuralgia, and no other medicine seemed to do me a particle of good. It certainly was a great day for me when I heard of Tanlac and I take great pleasure in recommending it."

The above statement appeared in a recent issue of The Lexington Leader, and it is only one of many thousands of similar statements that have been given by grateful users of Tanlac in all parts of the country from Maine to Mexico. Tanlac is now on sale in practically every city, town and village throughout the entire United States and is selling at the phenomenal rate of five million bottles per year.

Tanlac is sold in Carthage, exclusively by READ BROS. and in Gordonsville by GWALTNEY & WILSON.

"Lord, Lord, How This World is Given to Lying."—Shakespeare.

To lie outright is the light of day I'm not sufficient by skillful but do practice a bit in an amateur way, the lie you couldn't call wilful; the society lie and the business lie, and the lie I have had to double, and the lie that I tell when I don't know why except the truth's too much trouble. For this I'm willing to take your blame—unless you have some times done the same.

To be a fool of an A 1 brand I'm not sufficiently clever, but I often have tried my "prenticed hand in a simple and crude endeavor; be a fool with many for which I've toiled, or a fool in the words I've spoken, and the foolish fool who is fooled and foiled on a maiden's finger broken. If you never yourself have made a slip I'm willing to watch you turn up your lip.

Down to my toe-nails I resist if you dub me a fool and a liar. I set my teeth and double my first and my brow is flushed with fire. This I deny and you I defy and vow I'll make you rue it; and I lie when I say that I never lie which proves me a fool to do it. You may point your finger at me and grin—if liar and fool you never have been.

When Folly Calls.

(Night Letter to the Courier.)

There's not a single reason why a man should go astray; there are very many reasons why he shouldn't. But who is hunting reason when Folly calls "This Way!" You needn't try to find it, for you couldn't. There are many, many pathways that are crooked as a snake, also many, many pathways that are straight; about them is a lot of sameness, but one is hedged with ameness—when you launch your slip upon the Sea of Fate. Better keep both hands upon the

STOP! THINK! AT AUCTION

900 Acres—Smith Blue Grass Ranch—900

Dissolution Sale, Land and Live Stock.

On premises, 8½ miles west of Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

Wednesday, June 28th,
At 10 O'clock, A. M.

We will sell at auction the large Cas Smith blue-grass ranch and all live stock.

DESCRIPTION.

This ranch contains about 900 acres, of which about 850 are now in grass, about 85 or 100 are in corn, peas and other crops, the balance in timber. There is black locust in abundance on this land, except that in cultivation. The marketable locust is estimated at $2000, besides other marketable timber. There are some bump rock, but no glade. Fenced inside and outside with wire rails. The land consists of hills and valleys, and produces splendid grass; is well watered—springs, wells, and ponds. Fronts on Franklin Pike, A FREE PIKE, about 8½ miles west of Murfreesboro; a fine neighborhood. A new 5 room, modern bungalow, with 125 feet of 8 foot porch; tenant houses and other out-buildings. New cattle barn 52x60 feet, will care for about 100 head of cattle; a horse barn 40x40 feet, new metal roof.

Daily mail route, school, 1 mile; store, 1 mile; churches close.

LIVE STOCK.

50 head of splendid cows, calves and grazers, headed by a two-year-old roan short horn bull; 8 head of mules, 1 and 2 years old, several head of horse stock, 100 head of goats.

REMARKS.

Do not fail to come to this sale; it is a rare opportunity. The grass is now sufficient to care for 200 head of cattle, yet about one-half of this ranch is uncleared (in woodland.) The uncleared portion is very fine rich soil and will produce bluegrass abundantly.

The owners are dissolving partnership, otherwise, it would not be sold at auction.

No worry about labor and practically no investment for implements and more clear money. Cattle carried on this ranch went through last winter on pasture without dry feed and came through fat.

This property, land and live stock, are going to sell, at your price.

Sale;—Rain or shine, we can shelter you.

Free Barbecue on the Grounds

TERMS:—1-5 cash balance in five years, notes 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years; with interest from date of sale, interest payable annually and lien retained.

Immediate possession.

Remember this ranch is within nine miles of Murfreesboro, Tenn., where the Tennessee College and Soule College for Girls and the Middle Tennessee Normal, are located.

FESTUS,
Dixon Springs.

God placed somewhere in the heart of each of us a tender memory, which enables us to touch with a gentle hand or soothing word the heart of the afflicted. What a comfort to know that for every heartache, there is somewhere in the universe a heaven inspired soul to comfort those down-cast. Let us make our words as dew from heaven, touching with gentle hand the withered flowers, giving new vigor to the hardy.
